

Jon Blackbourn

I started as Assistant Headteacher in September 2015 but have been in teaching for 15 years. During that time I was Head of two departments at another local school (MFL & ICT) and my background is modern languages. My specialism is German and I used to work as a translator. I grew up in Spalding where I now live with my wife and two children.