Term 5 2017

It has been a thrilling and exciting term. As always, success has taken place both within the classroom and through a broad range of extra-curricular activities. Term 5 is always a demanding term as students in Years 11,12 and 13 begin their final preparations for study leave and their terminal exams for GCSE's, AS and A levels. All students have done remarkably well and I know from seeing packed classrooms at lunchtimes that a significant majority have taken the offer of support sessions, revision clinics and master classes. Good luck to you all – you have worked hard and need to continue these excellent efforts in the coming weeks. You all have our best wishes and 'Good Luck' in the coming exams.

You might mistakenly think that in the throes of the external examination period that we have forgotten about our Years 7 – 10 but of course not. They have been working away and achieving so much too – just read the array of reports in this newsletter! With the help of the Sixth Form, Years 7 – 10 put on a fantastic Spring Fayre – a real highlight of the term and raised over £3,500 for the School Council Locker Fund. In case any of you missed the Fayre newsletter we have attached it again here.

Thank you for your continued support.

UK-GERMAN CONNECTION

Lower Sixth student Nina Halgarth is celebrating after gaining a coveted place on the UK-German Connection Pupil Courses. The prestigious programme is offered to all A-Level students across the whole of the United Kingdom who have shown exceptional achievements in German.

The two week course offers the lucky twelve first-hand experience of German life and culture as students will be staying with a German host family and studying with German peers.

Gaining a place is an exceptional achievement and Nina's German teacher Frau Almasi commented 'What a fabulous way to complete your AS course! Nina will experience so many different aspects of 'the real thing' during her stay in Germany; I am looking forward to her sharing her impressions and thoughts, and perhaps a German biscuit or two with the rest of our lovely AS group and myself! We are so proud of this achievement, for Nina personally and for the school.'

JUNIOR MATHEMATICS CHALLENGE 2017

THE MOSCOW PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA AT THE CAMBRIDGE CORN EXCHANGE

As part of the Concerto Through Time project, our Year 10 GCSE Music group boarded the minibus to Cambridge and after performing hits from "Pitch Perfect" and "Queen" (apologies to Mr Garbett, who managed to remain focused on driving throughout!) we arrived at the Corn Exchange. The queue outside the door was a clear indication that the audience for The Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra were expecting the highest standard. The opening piece, Festive Overture by Shostakovich, began the evening with a brass fanfare which truly celebrated Russia and the skill of the orchestra. However, it was the Rachmaninov Piano Concerto (Number 2) that was the most highly anticipated. Rachmaninov was one of the best pianists himself, therefore the piece is highly demanding and requires virtuosic skill from all instrumentalists. Freddy Kempf, the solo pianist, made the piece seem easy work. The dramatic chords from the piano opening were perfectly accompanied by the entire orchestra and enthusiastically conducted by Yuri Botnari. From the dreamy clarinets in the second movement to the bursting orchestral motion in the last, the entire concerto captured the drama of the Romantic period in which it was written. Next on the programme was Pictures at an Exhibition by Mussorgsky. All ten movements are incredibly different, with the frightening 'Gnomus' (Mussorgsky was clearly terrified of gnomes) and Great Gate of Kiev which was so powerfully performed that when the timpani was struck the woman in front of us jumped out of her seat! Once these pieces were finished it was clear from the huge rounds of applause from the audience that this orchestra, arguably the best in the world, had delivered the performance we all eagerly expected. In reply to the overwhelming response from the audience, the orchestra gave a further two pieces. These were Shostakovich's Romance and the Pas de deux from Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker suite, which were beautifully performed. After an excellent performance and night, it was fair to say that our music group needed the McDonald's at the end of our trip! We were all amazed at the standard of the orchestra and will take away from the concert the skill and techniques for our own listening back at school.

A big thank you from the year 10 GCSE music group to Mr Garbett and Mrs Lazell for taking us to Cambridge and enduring our singing and statements like 'that's an oboe!' at the concert.

SPALDING HIGH SCHOOL EQUESTRIAN TEAM

Eight members of Spalding High School's equestrian team travelled three hours to Codham Park, Essex, for the national qualifying 'Jump with Style' competition. The 80cm team of Tabitha Leicester, Olivia Storer and Meghan Waring managed to complete a testing course to finish sixth.

There were two teams in the 90cm competition. Spalding Blues – Paul Defty, Tabitha Leicester, Meghan Waring and Amy Whittington – didn't get placed due to a few mishaps. Spalding Reds – Lucy Daly, Molly Johnson, Helen Peach and Olivia Storer – finished in second place and earned qualification for the National Championships in October. Daly was first individually after a faultless performance.

The 1m team also qualified by finishing in second place with Johnson also runner-up individually, being one of only three clear rounds in the class. Defty competed as an individual in the 1m and rode a confident round. Daly also won the 1.10m individually to earn her qualification place in this class.

A good effort was made by everyone and we all hope for continued success over the coming year.

LINCOLNSHIRE SCHOOLS ASSOCIATION GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

On 25th April I represented Spalding High School in the Lincolnshire Schools Association Golf Championship at Stoke Rochford and brought back the trophy with a net score of 74.

I will now go on to represent Lincolnshire Schools

Association at the North of England Schools Championships in Durham on Thursday 1st and Friday, 2nd June. Two years ago I reduced my handicap from 36 to 25 and last year from 25 to 14. My target for this year is for single figures. Last year I played for the County second team and we took the title winning the league. This year I am playing for the first team and to date I have won both of my matches against Shropshire and Derbyshire, with the team winning both games too.

NATIONAL GYMNASTICS COMPETITION

On 6th and 7th May, the Spalding High School Gymnastics Team took part in the British Schools Gymnastics National finals in Stoke on Trent. There were three different categories qualified for, U14 and U19 tumbling, U19 pairs and group acro and U14 and U19 floor and vault.

Saturday saw Rebecca Fones tumble her way into an outstanding 5th place with Lucia Walker following in 16th place in the U14 tumbling category, then in the U19 tumbling Hannah Lawrence tumbled into 7th place and Sian Matson into 11th. An amazing start to the day! Following that was the group acro routine, always a difficult round, but the routine was performed exceptionally well with the girls finishing in a respectable

11th place. Finally was the U19 pair, Miah Farrell and Sian Matson who after a long day finished in 10th following another excellent routine.

After a lovely evening celebrating at pizza hut, we were ready to compete again the next day. Sunday saw us compete in the floor and vault; there is always tough competition from across the county, including those from specialist gymnastics schools. U14's were first to compete, with an outstanding combined score of 116.33 putting them in 3rd place at that stage of the competition! With excitement for a medal high, the girls stayed in 3rd place all day until the last round where they finished in 4th place, an amazing achievement at a national competition. A difficult act to follow the U19 went out and finished again with an excellent combined score of 115.78 finishing in 5th place.

All the girls were exceptional at the competition and should be very proud of their achievements across the weekend.

CLIMBING NATIONAL FINAL

On the 29th I competed in the national youth climbing final in Ratho, Scotland. To qualify to this stage I competed in 3 regional competitions where the top 3 qualify for the final. During competitions 3 route climbs and 3 boulders are attempted, all the holds on the wall have a points value, you get the score for the last hold held or the maximum score is you top the climb. The same format applied at Ratho.

I walked into the main arena and the brisk air hit me. It never warms up in there. The first thing I did was walk around and scan which routes were for group C girls (my category). I already knew I was in group x, being chaperoned by my friends mum. As I was in x I was on boulder one and two first so I focused on them. After a proper warm up I gather at the meeting point. I was going 3rd so I had the opportunity to watch 2 others. I got three attempts at the problem. All of the problems included sloppers, not my strong point. After two strong attempts I topped the boulder on my final go. I was supposed to go 1st on the 2nd boulder but ended up going last; I managed to get further than expected but should have topped it. It was already 1 o'clock and we had started at 8:30am. We progressed onto climb 1, with people taking the full limit of 6 minutes it was a long boring wait. The climb wasn't straight forward there was a tricky section 1/3 of the way up and a technical move near the top. Unfortunately that was where I fell. The results came out for the first half and I was in 14th. Initially my aim was top 10 but as long as I wasn't knocked out of top 15 I was happy. The next boulder was hard and I only reached 3rd hold. However I didn't let this affect my determination. Then we moved forward onto the final 2 routes. On the second route I took too much of a swing and fell off 2nd to last clip ☹️ I was beginning to get tired so the last and hardest climb was a real struggle. I managed 6th clip and was quite disappointed however I improved to 13th overall out of 26 girls from all regions of England, Scotland, Wales & Ireland and beating my position from last year by 14 places.

DofE

Lots of Year 10 DofE students have now completed some of their volunteering, skills and physical activity sections and some have already completed all three. The Bronze DofE Practice expedition is coming up soon on June 17th - 18th in the Derbyshire Peak District and as part of their training, Y10 students have been putting up tents, learning campcraft and cooking their school lunch on their DofE Trangia stoves outside. It is a requirement of DofE that all participants must cook and eat a hot meal whilst on expedition.
